Citing example

The editions specified in the used literature at the end of the article should be located in alphabetical order according to surnames of authors (in case of that absence, the name of the collection), at first Georgian, then foreign editions.

1. Monograph

In the list:

Abashidze D. Regional economic problems. Tbilisi, "Intellekt", 2005, p. 10

In the text:

[Abashidze, 2005: 10]

2. Work:

In the collection

In the list

Abashidze D. Regional economic problems. In the collection: "Problems of a sustainable development", Tbilisi, "Intellekt", 2005, p. 10

In the text [Abashidze, 2005: 10]

In the journal

In the list

Abashidze G. Regional economic problems J.: "Intellekt", 2005, volume 10, № 3, 2015

3. If the book (article) has several authors, the surname of the author is specified in the text in square brackets that was given for the first time, and, then, usually, as well as in case of one author

[Abashidze… 2005: 10]

4. Collections

In the list:

The collection of scientific works of TSU Institute of Economics of Paata Gugushvili. Tbilisi, "Economy", 2015

In the text it will be approved so:

[TSU…2015:15]

5. In case of the indication of the foreign book, the surname of the author has to be specified in original language, and the rule of the approval will be the same, as well as during the indication of the Georgian-lingual book.

For example, book Stanley G. Becker. Human Capital. Columbia University Press, 1964 will be approved thus: [Stanley, 1964:35].

6. The approval of the encyclopedia or the dictionary happens by indication of the author (surnames of authors) or the first word of the name, in the same way, as well as above.

7.   If the author in the same year published two books or more, A, B, etc. should be specified respectively after the surname of the author.

Example: [Abashidze A , 2007:181].

Remarks

1. Author's remarks have to be taken out at the end of the corresponding page in a footnote and have to be numbered by uniform numbering in the article as a whole. Font size of a footnote is 9. During citing the text in article, it has to be allocated from the main text with an inclined font (italics). A quote font size - is 11.